Institutional Student Learning Outcomes
A. Critical Thinking: Analyze problems by differentiating fact from opinions, using evidence, and using sound reasoning to specify multiple solutions and their consequences.

G. Cultural Diversity: Respectfully engage with other cultures in an effort to understand them.

Child Development Student Learning Outcomes
Demonstrate familiarity with appropriate materials, equipment, and teaching approaches that support optimum learning and development for young children. The student will justify the relevance and appropriateness of the activity in a relationship to the objectives of the activity.
Welcome
This semester, you will work to develop your understanding of the basic understanding of Child Development. You will also learn and practice the importance of best practices for early educational setting. The goal is for you to have a better understanding of how children develop through different stages, the theorist that have been contributors to the field and especially how adults need to respect a child’s growth. The skills you learn here will help you succeed both in and out of class. However, your education is ultimately YOUR responsibility. YOU determine your level of success. Successful college students are self-motivated. Successful college students understand the importance of studying the material, coming to class prepared and practicing skills learned. YOU CAN DO IT and I’m here to help.

Course Description
This course presents an overview of knowledge and skills related to providing appropriate curriculum and environments for young children from birth to age 8. Students will examine a teacher’s role in supporting development and fostering the joy of learning for all children using observation and assessment strategies emphasizing the essential role of play. An overview of content areas will include but not limited to: Language and literacy social and emotional learning, sensory learning, art and creativity, math and science, perceptual motor development, age appropriate curriculum and practices, pre-kindergarten guidelines, dramatic play, and group time. The student will design and implement lesson plans.

College Policies:

Academic Integrity (Plagiarism)
In accordance with code 9803.28, academic dishonesty is prohibited and will not be tolerated in this class. Violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to, the following actions: cheating on an exam, plagiarism, working together on an assignment, paper or project when the instructor has specifically stated students should not do so, submitting the same term paper to more than one instructor, or allowing another individual to assume one’s identity for the purpose of enhancing one’s grade. Academic dishonesty of any type, such as cheating or knowingly furnishing false information, by a student provides grounds for disciplinary action by the instructor or college. In written work, no material may be copied from another without proper quotation marks, footnotes, or appropriate documentation.

- Plagiarism will result in a zero for the assignment, possible dismissal from the class and disciplinary action from the college. You will not receive credit for any essay missing previous drafts, citations and/or a Works Cited page.

Student Conduct
According to code 9803.15, disruption of classes or college activities is prohibited and will not be tolerated. Refer to the catalog and the Standards of Student Conduct in the Schedule of Classes for more information. You will be escorted out by the Sheriff if you do not leave by your own occur once the Professor has asked for your dismissal from class.

Recording Devices
State law in California prohibits the use of any electronic listening or recording device in a classroom without prior consent of the instructor and college administration. Any student who needs to use electronic aids must secure the consent of the instructor. If the instructor agrees to the request, a notice of consent must be forwarded to the Vice President of Academic Affairs for approval (WLAC College Catalog).

For more information refer to the attached link:

THREE ATTEMPT LIMIT:
A new state policy in effect as of 2012 limits students to (3) three attempts per course. Receiving a grade or a “W” for a course counts as an attempt, regardless of when the course was taken. Withdrawal by the deadline to avoid a “W” will not count as an attempt.
