Welcome

This semester, you will work to develop your understanding of the basic understanding of Child Development. You will also learn and practice the importance of best practices for early educational setting. The goal is for you to have a better understanding of how children develop through different stages, the theorist that have been contributors to the field and especially how adults need to respect a child's growth. The skills you learn here will help you succeed both in and out of class. However, your education is ultimately YOUR responsibility. YOU determine your level of success. Successful college students are self-motivated. Successful college students understand the importance of studying the material, coming to class prepared and practicing skills learned. YOU CAN DO IT and I'm here to help. J

Course Description

This course will provide an introduction to philosophies, practices, and the role of the Early Childhood Education professional, with emphasis on the teacher in various early childhood programs. The developmental characteristics of the age groups and curriculum and developmentally appropriate and culturally sensitive teaching practices are highlighted. The student becomes aware of various types of educational programs available to children ages 0-8 years of age. The student will be exposed to career opportunities, the role of responsibilities of a teacher and age appropriate curriculum in Early Childhood programs. The student will study the field from historical and cultural perspectives. The student will study the curriculum components and teaching modalities that are critical in an early learning program.

Required Texts

- Berger, K.S. (2009). THE DEVELOPING PERSON: Through Childhood and Adolescence (8th-10th Edition is okay)
ISBN-13: 978-1-4292-1647-0

Required Materials

- Have accessibility to a computer and scanner (Can be located in the computer labs at WLAC)

Institutional Student Learning Outcomes

1. Critical Thinking: Analyze problems by differentiating fact from opinions, using evidence, and using sound reasoning to specify multiple solutions and their consequences.

G. Cultural Diversity: Respectfully engage with other cultures in an effort to understand them.

Child Development Student Learning Outcomes (SLO)

1. Students will analyze and determine the stage of development of the child in the four developmental domains: physical, social-emotional, cognitive, and linguistic stages of development.

Course Requirements and assignment guidelines

NOTE: If you don't have internet access at home, there are computer labs on campus. If accessing the website proves difficult, see me immediately. DO NOT WAIT until the day of a test to seek help or explain your situation. Alternate plans can be arranged with notice.

Participation Discussion Writing Prompts

Every week you will have a writing prompt that pertains to a child development topic. Each writing prompt is worth 10 points. You will have the entire week to answer it, after the week is over the window to submit will be closed. The 10 points are per discussion (for example: one submission per question will earn you 10 points. Re-submission on the same topic will not give you additional points) The discussion piece for the week will only be open for a designated time frame.

Writing Assignments

You will have writing assignments due. For each question, you must answer each question with at least a paragraph (7 sentences). The rubric used for this assignment is found at the end of the syllabus.

Exams

Exams will be given regularly to ensure that you are keeping up with the readings. Missed exams cannot be made up.

Class Policies

Attendance

Excessive absenteeism to Etudes and lack of writing prompts will lower your grade. Be aware of all the exams, discussions and writing prompts are essential to your attendance grade.

Preparedness

You will come to Etudes prepared. You will have your book, any work that is due, and you will be prepared to discuss all readings/assignments in the chat area if asked to and submit your assignments on time.

Discussions

We will have very passionate discussions in class, if and when you feel uncomfortable with the topic, feel free to log off BUT YOU must inform me after class an email of your discomfort. I respect all my students' opinions and I expect everyone in ETUDES class will do the same. That is the beauty of college; the differing of opinions.

Contacting Me

E-mail is the best and quickest way to contact me. Thanks to modern technology, my e-mail is linked to my phone. Therefore, excuses such as, "I tried to contact you but..." will not work. If you have a problem, do not let it snowball. Contact me immediately. Students are expected to ask questions and obtain help from instructor via email and/or during office hours.

College Policies:

Academic Integrity (Plagiarism)

In accordance with code 9803.28, academic dishonesty is prohibited and will not be tolerated in this class. Violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to, the following actions: cheating on an exam, plagiarism, working together on an assignment, paper or project when the instructor has specifically stated students should not do so, submitting the same term paper to more than one instructor, or allowing another individual to assume one's identity for the purpose of enhancing one's grade. Academic dishonesty of any type, such as cheating or knowingly furnishing false information, by a student provides grounds for disciplinary action by the instructor or college. In written work, no material may be copied from another without proper quotation marks, footnotes, or appropriate documentation.

- Plagiarism will result in a zero for the assignment, possible dismissal from the class and disciplinary action from the college. You will not receive credit for any essay missing previous drafts, citations and/or a Works Cited page.

Student Conduct

According to code 9803.15, disruption of classes or college activities is prohibited and will not be tolerated. Refer to the catalog and the Standards of Student Conduct in the Schedule of Classes for more information.
