Course Description

An activity class using a variety of exercises to help the student achieve fitness and establish a workout program useful for lifetime fitness. Students will work to develop and/or improve upon strength, muscle tone and fitness level via a self-paced workout program during the course of the semester. (Note: this syllabus is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor at any time during the semester.)

Students must be dressed in appropriate workout clothes and workout shoes. Bring a workout towel. Water is allowed in the Fitness Center. Please be on time in order to complete your workout.

In the Fitness Center, when you finish using a machine or cardio equipment, use your towel to wipe off perspiration/sweat for the next user.

All cell phones, pagers, etc. must be OFF during class. If you have to answer an emergency phone call, please step out of the classroom. Devices of this type should be placed on vibrate or silent.

Please do not leave gym bags and/or backpacks on the floor; place them on the counter. Lockers are available in the Men's or Women's Locker Rooms; however, you must furnish your own lock.

Class policies when in the West Los Angeles College Fitness Center (PEC-104).

The exercise program is designed to work the five Health-Related Components of Fitness:

1. Cardiovascular Endurance -- The ability to take in, deliver, and extract oxygen for physical work.
2. Muscular Strength -- The maximum amount of force that a muscle can exert in a single contraction.
3. Muscular Endurance -- The ability of a muscle to sustain repeated contractions.
4. Flexibility -- The range of motion about a joint or series of joints.
5. Body Composition -- The amount of fat and lean body mass in the body.

The primary training style is Aerobic Weight Training utilizing a sequence of weight training machines and stationary bicycles organized into an Aerobic Super Circuit.

The Aerobic Super Circuit was developed by Dr. Kenneth Cooper at the Institute for Aerobic Research in Dallas, Texas. The Aerobic Super Circuit combines low intensity, high repetition circuit weight training with aerobic activity stations. The program develops and improves all five of the health-related fitness components. It was especially developed to be fast, efficient, effective, and fun.

The Aerobic Super Circuit provides the opportunity to enjoy the benefits of a healthy lifestyle when combined with a proper diet and common sense. It is a self-paced program. You will train at your own level.

Exercise requires patience and persistence as well as perspiration! Many little improvements made over days, weeks, and months will move you to the fitness level you desire. You cannot become fit in one day or one week by working extra hard. If you feel tired, drained, and pained, you may need a lighter workout. Always train, don't strain.

Areas in the Fitness Center:

As you enter the Fitness Center you will see aerobic machines, stationary bicycles, and weight machines. These are organized into two areas:

Circuit:

The circuit is an organized sequence combining weight machines and stationary bicycles.

Aerobic / cardio:

A variety of aerobic machines (Treadmills, Stair Master, Elliptical Trainer, Spin bikes, Cardio Rowing and Cardio Squat, ARC trainers) are organized around the Fitness Center.
