University Feel - Community College Price

Like other California Community Colleges, West allows students to complete the first two years of a Bachelor's degree for significantly less tuition than at a university. And, like those other colleges, West students transfer to prestigious universities and train for satisfying careers.

UNIQUE TO WEST IS THE EXPERIENCE

Smaller class sizes, caring faculty and staff and a scenic campus cooled by ocean breezes give West the feel of an intimate private university, but at a public community college price.

FULLY ACCREDITED 2-YEAR COLLEGE

West Los Angeles College is an accredited, two-year California Community College, located on 70 park-like acres. West is part of a 9-campus group of community colleges serving students for over 85 years.

OUTSTANDING FACULTY

West faculty are graduates of prestigious universities, including UCLA, USC, Columbia, M.I.T. and Harvard. Our faculty hold master's degrees or Ph.D.s and/or speciality certificate in a trade. All classes are taught by faculty, not student assistants. And, with smaller class sizes than you will find at universities and many other community colleges, students are able to receive more attention and assistance.

AMONG THE LOWEST TUITION IN THE U.S.A.

Thanks to California's financial support of public higher education, West offers among the lowest college tuition in America.

THE FIRST STEP TOWARD A BACHELOR'S DEGREE OR CAREER PREPARATION

At West, students may complete the first two years of course work required for a bachelor's degree -- but at a much lower cost than they would pay at a private college or university. The student may then transfer to a 4-year university as a junior (3rd year college student).

West also offers 2-year associate degree programs in high paying occupations such as dental hygiene, nursing, computer science, business, aircraft mechanics, computer science, child development, and more.

The Right Option For You

West has an active international student population from over 50 different countries who study and explore together, but are also well integrated into the greater college community of American students. In addition to the college's International Club, you will find our international students in the Associated Student Government, honors organizations, the International Student Success Program, and other student clubs.

A number of our distinguished faculty grew up in other countries, or have parents who did. For international students who are interested, these professors act as mentors. International students at West may pursue a career skill certification or associate degree, or complete general education courses and then transfer to a university to complete the last half of a bachelor's degree. Some students elect to do both. For more information or to enroll, visit: www.WLAC.edu/International.

By starting your bachelor's degree and/or pursuing career training at West, you can save thousands of dollars.
