

Associate Degree for Transfer

A Degree with a Guarantee.SM

The new joint transfer program from the California Community Colleges and the California State Universities makes it easier for students like you to transfer between the two school systems. For the first time in California history, community college students who complete a new AA-T or AS-T will be guaranteed admission to the California State University (CSU) system. With this new degree, you have the opportunity to complete two degrees with only 120 units if you apply and are admitted into a similar degree program.

Through the new program, students who complete an AA-T or AS-T will be given a special GPA advantage when applying to CSU impacted campuses or majors.

The best part of the deal? Students with an AA-T or AS-T enter the CSU system with junior standing. Students who are admitted to a program that has been deemed similar will need only 60 more semester units (or 90 quarter units) to complete a bachelor's degree.

SOCIAL SCIENCES DIVISION

APPROPRIATENESS TO MISSION

Consistent with the College's larger mission for student success, the mission of the Associate in Arts in Anthropology for Transfer is: 1) to provide a rigorous program in which students will achieve a broad, cross-cultural education that will prepare them to apply anthropological knowledge in their chosen educational and/or career paths; 2) to enrich students with the knowledge and skills needed to earn an Associate in Arts degree in Anthropology; and 3) to provide the courses necessary to prepare students for transfer to a CSU.

STATEMENT OF PROGRAM GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Anthropology encompasses a variety of historical and comparative approaches to human cultural and physical variety, ranging from the study of human evolution and prehistory to the study of modern cultures. Anthropology involves, at one extreme, natural science such as anatomy, ecology, genetics, and geology; at the other, various social sciences and humanities ranging from psychology, sociology, and linguistics to philosophy, history, and comparative religion. With this in mind, the Associate in Arts in Anthropology for Transfer has been developed to ease the process of transfer to the CSU. The required course work provides the skills and knowledge needed to earn an Associate in Arts degree in Anthropology as well as complete the lower division requirements for the four-year degree. The course work aids students in honing their critical thinking skills, those skills fundamental in differentiating fact from opinions, using evidence and sound reasoning in the analysis of problems. These are skills that will not only help students succeed in their academic pursuits but also in their professional lives.

A fundamental strength of the program is that every course offering imparts to students the essential necessity of respectfully engaging with other cultures in an effort to understand them. In our modern global world, a student with an understanding and respect for cultural diversity will be successful.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES (PLOS):

In combination with the College Student Learning Outcomes outlined above (Critical Thinking and Cultural Diversity), students of the Associate in Arts in Anthropology for Transfer will also be exposed to the following Program Level Student Learning Outcomes:

- Practice and demonstrate behaviors, skills, and knowledge necessary to advance academically and professionally in the discipline.
- Address social, behavioral, historical, and cultural issues to respond to the challenges of work, family, community, and the global world.
- Apply to life the principles of cultural relativism.
- Apply critical thinking to investigate and interpret the influences of heredity and environment upon human beings.
- Critically analyze anthropological topics.
- Collect and synthesize research data using credible sources to write a cohesive document.
