Prerequisite: Elementary Algebra (Math 115). Students may take Economics 1 or 2 as the first course.

Catalog Course Description

This course is an introduction to the field of macroeconomics. Topics to be analyzed include an analysis of the behavior of the national economy as a whole, together with such issues as the determination of gross domestic product, the unemployment rate, the inflation rate, interest rates, and the long-term economic growth rate. In addition, global issues such as the role of the exchange rate and the balance of trade are analyzed.

Introduction

Macroeconomics is concerned with the economy as a whole and the relationships between broad economic indicators. The course will cover the aggregate economy: GDP, inflation, business cycles, unemployment, fiscal and monetary policies, economic growth, productivity, and the federal deficit.

The tools of macroeconomic analysis will be developed and applied to national economic problems facing the U.S. and other market-oriented economies. Contemporary macroeconomic problems including concern about the economy moving into a recession, economic growth rates, inflation, consumer spending and personal saving, fiscal policy, monetary policy, national debt and deficits, unemployment rates, international value of the dollar, and trade deficits will be discussed. Understanding underlying economic issues, economic policies and their probable consequences is a focal point of this course.

Course SLOs

- Collect, analyze, and interpret the data on GDP, price level, and unemployment rate.
- Use the aggregate demand (AD) – aggregate supply (AS) model to predict short-run changes and long-run trends in prices, output, and employment.
- Explain the role of the Federal Reserve System in the US economy and describe the major tools of monetary policy.

Technical Requirements

Please carefully review the ETUDES system requirements located at <https://myetudes.org/portal/site/!gateway/page/4243c7b4-9b68-45fc-0016-148ad08653aa> Make sure you have configured your computer correctly before the course starts.

Course Requirements and Expectations

Since this is an online course, the means by which the subject matter will be delivered to you will be different from that which would normally take place in a traditional classroom setting. This means that lectures and discussions will not be face-to face in a room but rather “virtual.” The textbook will serve as your “lecture” and online discussions will take the place of classroom dialogue. Thus, it is very important that you keep up with your reading. Your online course offers several advantages to a traditional classroom. Not only does the site offer easy communication with other students and your teacher, it allows access to a wealth of online resources. I encourage you to use this forum to exchange ideas, resources and comments with your fellow students and learn from what others know.

You are required to ‘attend’ class by keeping up on announcements, readings, assignments and exams, in addition to participating in weekly discussions. A student in an online course must be prepared to act independently and to encounter technical glitches of all kinds. If you experience technical difficulties that may prevent you from keeping up with the curriculum, you must let me know immediately via e-mail so we can work out a solution.

Methods of Evaluation

Assessments	Points
Weekly Discussions	120 points
2 Timed Midterm (each 240 points)	480 points
Weekly Assignments	240 points
Final Exam	360 points
Total points possible:	1200 points

Grading Scale 90 -100 % A, 80 -89 % B, 70 -79 % C, 60 -69 % D, Below 59% F.

Grading Policies. I grade all assignments on a weekly basis. You have one week to complete any assignments and must take the exam on the date given. The timed exams consist of multiple choice and true false questions. There will be no make-up exams, with the only exception being an emergency with sufficient and adequate documentation to prove it.

There will be an opportunity for extra credit towards the end of the semester.

College Policies and Standards

Academic Integrity (Plagiarism)

In accordance with code 9803.28, academic dishonesty is prohibited and will not be tolerated in this class. Violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to, the following actions: cheating on an exam, plagiarism, working together on an assignment, paper or project when the instructor has specifically stated students should not do so, submitting the same term paper to more than one instructor, or allowing another individual to assume one's identity for the purpose of enhancing one's grade. Academic dishonesty of any type, such as cheating or knowingly furnishing false information, by a student provides grounds for disciplinary action by the instructor or college. In written work, no material may be copied from another without proper quotation marks, footnotes, or appropriate documentation. Plagiarism will result in a zero for the assignment, possible dismissal from the class and disciplinary action from the college. You will not receive credit for any essay missing previous drafts, citations and/or a Works Cited page.

Student Conduct

According to code 9803.15, disruption of classes or college activities is prohibited and will not be tolerated. Refer to the catalog and the Standards of Student Conduct in the Schedule of Classes for more information.

Instructor Response Policy

I will check my email daily. I will respond to course related questions within 48 hours. I will announce assignment due dates in the course units and through updated messages just as I would in a regular class. Distance Learning is self-directed learning. It requires a high level of responsibility, dedication and self-discipline on the part of the student. In this course, you are responsible for your own work, your own progress and your own grade. In order to succeed, you need to log in to the course regularly to check announcements, participate in discussions and access course content.

Turning Work In. All assignments should be turned in via ETUDES-NG.

Deadlines Odd things happen in cyberspace—emails get lost, servers disconnect temporarily, and logins fail. Do not wait for the last minute to do your work. Allow time to meet deadlines.

Late Work Each week's work must be completed by Wednesday of every week. Late work may receive credit if you contact me and explain a special circumstance.

Cheating. Using any materials or devices or strategies which provide undue advantage on any exam, assignment, activity or other method of assessment for a course. This includes, but is not limited to, looking at another student's exam, using phones or other communication systems to text message during exams, taking pictures or images of exams, talking with others during exams, using Internet to find information, or any other system of inappropriate "help." Exams are to be measures of what YOU, as an individual, have learned.

Collaboration. Working together on projects, papers, exams or other forms of assessment which are to be completed individually.

Plagiarism. Taking anyone else's work as one's own. Presenting another's words, ideas, forms of expression, materials, or labor without proper citation, referencing, and declaration that this material originated outside the student's own work.

For assistance with classroom projects, papers and assignments, please visit the Learning Skills Center, HLRC.

Dropping a Class

Student wanting to drop a class should drop online at www.wlac.edu, click "For Students," then "Student Information System." Students who stop attending a class are responsible for withdrawing from the class to prevent being issued a failing "F" grade in the class.

Instructional Support and Monitoring

Monitor your academic progress online at www.wlac.edu click "Counseling, Assessment and Orientation," then on the DegreeWorks icon, or visit the Counseling Office.

For instructional support and assistance with research projects, visit the Learning Skills Center and Library in HLRC.

Professional Conduct in Our Virtual Classroom Community

I encourage you to participate in the DISCUSSIONS, and to ask questions and post items of interest in the Student Lounge or Chat Room. This class is a "safe harbor" for you to have discussions. One of the unifying objectives in this course is to familiarize you with best practices and give you exposure to becoming a member of a professional community. I also have the responsibility to insure that our virtual community is a conducive learning environment for all students. As such, all students will please follow these policies of our classroom community for all emails, discussion groups and chat rooms:

1. No profanity or foul language, either in writing or pictures, of any kind at any time.
2. Please address everyone politely by their name.
3. Under no circumstances may you ask for a classmate's personal contact information or in any way ask for a personal meeting or date.
4. Unless I specifically ask you to do so as a proper part of an assignment, do not include in your email signatures or other material in your messages any kind of a personal nature, including a photo, sales solicitation, information about a business, or a political or religious message of any kind. Do not include a blind or other kind of hyperlink to such information. Violators will be excluded from the course.
5. Please use common sense and common courtesy as if you are already a professional in the business community. Please check with me first if you have any questions about what is appropriate.

“Netiquette” and “Civilogue”

This semester, you will post weekly responses to the class blog on various topics related to the class and the world around us. The term “netiquette” is a combination of the words internet and etiquette. The term “civilogue” is a combination of the words civil and dialogue. Both terms, as well as the words used to create them, are essential to the class. You may not agree with the views and opinions expressed by your peers, but you don’t have the right to be disrespectful. Personal attacks, profanity, vulgarity and comments that are not productive additions to the conversation will be deleted and you will not receive credit for the assignment.

Office of Disabled Student Programs and Services (DSP&S)

Student Services Building (SSB) 320 | (310) 287-4450.
