"Develop your gift."
Alumnus Damon Carr

As an in-class guest speaker, West alumnus Damon Carr advised students to develop their gifts. He recalled having his photo taken in the cockpit of an airplane before becoming a pilot to help him stay focused on his goal.

Carr's path was not always clear. In high school, he found himself having to attend a continuation campus. At West, he became a much more disciplined student, then transferred to Cal State Dominguez Hills where he earned both a Bachelor's and Master's degree.

Today, 1st Officer Carr flies a $30 million plane for Skywest Airlines, always remembering the seriousness of his responsibility. "I'm flying someone's dad, mom or kids around."
