"THE PURPOSE OF EDUCATION IS TO REPLACE AN EMPTY MIND WITH AN OPEN ONE."
(Malcolm Forbes)

An aphorism is a general truth expressed pithily and making a wise, often ironic, comment on human behavior.

The following are some beginning-of-the-semester quotes/aphorisms for your consideration, contemplation, and retention:

"Life's hard. It's even harder when you're stupid." (John Wayne)

"It's not supposed to be easy; it's supposed to be hard; if it was easy, everybody would do it; it's the hard that make's it good."
(said by the baseball manager, responding to the team's catcher, when she complained that playing baseball was too difficult, in the film,
"A League Of Their Own")

"Anyone who has never made a mistake has never tried anything new."
(Albert Einstein)

"You are never too old to set another goal or to dream a new dream."
(C.S. Lewis)

"There are people who so eagerly and insistently desire some one thing that, for fear of missing it, they omit doing nothing that will spoil their chances." (La Bruyere)

"The greatest mistake you can make in life is to be continually fearing that you will make one." (E. Hubbard)

"It is often the failure who is the pioneer in new lands, new undertakings, and new forms of expression." (Hoffer)

"The secret of success in life is known only to those who have not succeeded." (Collins)

"It takes twenty years to build a reputation and five minutes to ruin
it. If you think about that, you will do things differently." (Warren Buffett)

"Be more concerned with your character than your reputation, because your character is what you really are, while your reputation is merely what others think you are." (John Wooden)

"As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words, but to live by them." (JFK)
"Continuous effort—not strength or intelligence—is the key to unlocking your potential." (Winston Churchill)

"In order to succeed, your desire for success should be greater than your fear of failure." (John Wooden)

"Failure to prepare is preparing to fail." (John Wooden)

"Nothing will work unless you do." (John Wooden)

INSTRUCTOR'S INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT/ADMONITION:

The study of law can be fun and exciting. We are about to embark on a journey that will permit you to gain an understanding of the rules that govern certain aspects of commerce, and in particular, those applicable to the ownership, management, maintenance, and practice of real estate. As you study the various theories and rules of law, besides affecting real estate, you will undoubtedly find that many have a daily impact on your personal life. As opposed to many academic subjects, where the relevance is hard to see, with the study of law, you will witness its impact from a personal viewpoint.

This course, Legal Aspects of Real Estate, is an introduction to the vast body of law that governs real estate transactions in California. However, it will not qualify you as students, to give legal advice, which would be the unauthorized practice of law. Rather, it will help you to recognize the situations in which legal counsel should be sought and to help you understand rights and obligations under the law. Only by understanding these rights and obligations can you professionally serve and protect others, to wit, your clients, as well as the public.

During our time together, more than once you will your Instructor profess: "SEE ME NOW, OR SEE ME LATER!" You will come to realize the importance of this phrase, which I trust will resonate and have special meaning for you.
EXCERPT FROM "THE REFERENCE BOOK, Information Relating To Real Estate Practice, Licensing and Examinations" published and distributed by the State of California, Bureau of Real Estate:

"A Word of Caution:

Never before has the world of real estate presented so many complexities and challenges to the real estate licensee. Real Estate is an exciting business to be in, yet a highly demanding profession.

Real Estate licensees should guard well the privilege of practicing real estate while avoiding stepping over the sometimes subtle line into the practice of law.

The real estate broker should be the first to recognize that although the field of real estate is highly technical and complicated by the overlapping of numerous areas of knowledge, the legal profession is even more technical, requiring years of preparation and constant study and research.

The phrase "to practice law" and similar expressions are not confined to meaning "appearances in court." They include legal advice and counsel and the preparation of legal instruments by which legal rights are secured.

It has been held, for example, that the selection and preparation of a mortgage or deed of trust by a broker in an independent loan transaction in which a fee was charged by the broker was the unlawful practice of law, even though only one transaction was involved.

To the lay person, what appears on the surface to be a minor difficulty may in fact be a complex legal issue, requiring the attention of a competent attorney. Brokers should not attempt to provide advice to clients needing counsel to solve legal problems. Indeed, under the Business and Professions Code, the practice of law by persons who are not members of the State Bar is specifically prohibited.

The foregoing is intended to remind and encourage real estate brokers to be alert for business activity that may require consultation with an attorney and avoid allowing principal or client to place upon them that responsibility which belongs only to a lawyer. Agents endanger their licenses and reputations and do a distinct disservice to customers when they overstep into the attorney's domain."

COURSE TEXT (And Collateral References):

There is voluminous resource material available (optional) for supplemental or more in-depth review and analysis. Consider resort to California Bureau of Real Estate publications, which include the Reference Book ($20), Real Estate Law (book & CD set, $25), and Disclosures In Real Property Transactions ($10); and the multitude of free brochures issued by the agency. (See www.dre.ca.gov). The quarterly Real Estate Bulletin is also informative.

Furthermore, it is recommended that students peruse the Business/Real Estate section of the Los Angeles Times (especially the Sunday edition), or similar real estate newsworthy periodicals/publications (e.g. Wall Street Journal, etc.).
Also, Instructor urges students to make extensive use of the text glossary (and if necessary, a comprehensive legal dictionary (e.g. Black's)).

The Internet can also be an important tool for the real estate professional. It has applications toward all aspects of real estate, including the law, and its usefulness is expected to continue and increase significantly in the future.

Search engines, as you probably know, are Internet sites that enable a computer user to find information by typing a key word or combination of words. They search what now far exceeds 23 billion pages. The growth of the database has resulted in searches that cover just a fraction of the available data.

The next two pages contain a large sampling of Internet sites which serve to be accessible for real estate legal research needs:

INSTRUCTIONAL METHOD:

It is the Instructor's custom and practice to lecture each and every session (primarily with reference to the assigned text material). However, lectures often are augmented with extraneous/supplemental information (in other words, material not contained in the text), and shall include class discussions. There will be several midterm tests, and a comprehensive, cumulative Final Examination. Quizzes are always a possibility.

ATTENDANCE:

Students are expected to attend ALL course meetings. Your presence in class, more than merely appreciated and prudent, is mandatory. The Instructor's "rule of thumb" is that three (3) unexcused absences may result in exclusion/disqualification, or failure to receive a passing grade (i.e., no course credit).

As to 1st Class Meeting Attendance, the Schedule of Classes indicates: "Attendance Required at First Class Meeting! Protect your seat by attending the first class meeting. Students not present when the roll is called during the first class may be dropped from the class by the instructor. Often instructors make those seats available to other students asking to add the class."

Students are to be punctual for each class session, and, if applicable, to return promptly from any break period.

IF YOU FIND THAT YOU WILL BE UNABLE TO ATTEND A CLASS SESSION, EXPECT TO BE LATE (OR WISH TO BE EXCUSED EARLY), PLEASE NOTIFY THE INSTRUCTOR IN ADVANCE, PROVIDING YOUR COMPELLING (GOOD CAUSE) REASON, UNLESS IT IS OBJECTIVELY IMPOSSIBLE FOR YOU TO DO SO.

Do not leave messages for the Instructor at/with any campus office or in the Instructor's on-campus mailbox.

STUDENTS' RESPONSIBILITIES:

Students are to attend class prepared, having read the assigned portions to the text and/or other designated material; to timely complete and submit any out-of-class assignments and projects (so-called "homework"); to actively participate in and contribute to class discussions; and to take (and pass) ALL examinations as scheduled.

Extra-credit projects/opportunities may be permitted, but only for "good cause," on a case-by-case basis, in the discretion of Instructor.

MISSED ASSIGNMENTS:

Kindly rely on fellow students (NOT UPON THE INSTRUCTOR) to obtain issued material you did not receive and/or assignments. You are presumed to know what occurs in class. In this regard, it is expedient to forge relationships and exchange contact information with one another without delay ("buddy-up"). Howz about now? In the opinion of the Instructor, our 1st class is the first, best opportunity to do so.
OFFICE HOURS/INSTRUCTOR CONFERENCES:

Instructor is to be available for face-to-face student conferences on campus, by appointment, or prior to class, at a place to be arranged. Instructor shall also be available for telephonic conferences or email communication on a frequent basis (at reasonable times).

SLEEPING:

Do not engage in this activity during class (as it is considered, in some circles, to be counterproductive, and quite disruptive).

HUMOR:

A sense of humor is helpful, recommended, encouraged, and utterly condoned.

EXAMINATIONS:

There will be a Final and three (3) Midterm examinations. Although possibly subject to change: 1) Chapters 1-5; 2) Chapters 6-10; and 3) Chapters 11-15.

THE CUMULATIVE FINAL EXAMINATION IS TO BE ADMINISTERED ON TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 2015 DURING REGULAR CLASS TIME.

EXAMINATION FORMAT:

The questions are objective-type, most often in the form of multiple choice (some true/false, on occasion). Short-answer, essay-type questions (concept-oriented) may be propounded, but on a limited basis. Quizzes may be given (at any time during a class session).

Exams embrace the content of class lectures (and text material), with great emphasis on the former (in other words, "what you hear, you may get").

Scantron 882-E forms are to be used for exams; and #2 pencils are required in connection therewith.

MAKE-UP EXAMINATIONS:

MAKE-UP EXAMINATIONS ARE DISFAVORED. BE ADVISED THAT THEY WILL ONLY BE ADMINISTERED UPON A STRONG SHOWING OF EXTRAORDINARY GOOD CAUSE: i.e. IN THE EVENT OF SERIOUS ILLNESS, OR PERSONAL/FAMILY EMERGENCY.

CONCERNING THE FINAL EXAMINATION, IT IS THE POLICY OF THE COLLEGE THAT A STUDENT MAY NOT TAKE THE FINAL BEFORE OR AFTER ITS SCHEDULED DATE AND TIME, WITHOUT THE AUTHORIZATION OF THE OFFICE OF ACADEMIC AFFAIRS.

GRADING:

Grading is on a total point system. While the following standard percentages apply (90%=A; 80%=B; 70%=C, etc.), Instructor in his discretion may utilize a grade curve analysis in arriving at a student's final course grade. (Instructor discourages a student from "taking one for the team" so-to-speak, by deliberately lowering the curve).

THE factor will be on the basis of total points. However, be advised that the comprehensive FINAL EXAM score will be weighted four or five times the aggregate of the midterm scores.
CLASS PARTICIPATION:

Student discussion is encouraged, as are questions and comments which are relevant and judicious. Whereas failure to actively participate is not considered to be detrimental to the silent student, active participation may be factor (a "tipping point") weighed favorable to the student's benefit if a borderline grade issue arises. In any event, students are always to be prepared.
